DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to the amendment filed 07/19/2004. The allowable subject matters of claims 8 and 9 have been withdrawn. A new ground of rejection is introduced.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- 1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
  - The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
- 2. Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 8 is indefinite because there are no antecedent basis for the limitations "the loaded output" in lines 1-2 and "the control system" in line 3. the limitation "the means for compensating coupled between the input and output of the power supply" is unclear. "Power supply" is a well known term which is used to refer a voltage. However, "voltage" does not have input and output.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 4. Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Takenaka (USP 5504452).

Ì

As to claim 8, the limitation "for controlling the loaded output of a DUT power supply, the DUT power supply including an input, a main loop amplifier and an output stage amplifier" is seen as an intended use limitation or is not given any patentable weight because it is recited in the preamble. Takenaka discloses in figure 2 a control loop circuit comprising: means (22, 23) for compensating an error signal (VNN), the means for compensating coupled between the input (VCC) and output (VDD) of the power supply (12); and a dynamic compensation control loop (15, 16) including a digital signal processor (16) (circuit 16 processing digital signal. Thus, as broad as reasonable interpretation, circuit 16 is the DSP) the dynamic compensation control loop disposed in parallel with the means for compensating, the dynamic compensation control loop selectively cooperating with the means for compensating to optimize the power supply output in response to varying output loads (intended use).

As to claim 9, figure 2 shows the means for compensating an error signal comprises a first control path including an error amplifier (23), the error amplifier operative to generate an error signal (COMP) for presentation to the main loop amplifier (12).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1, 3-7, 10 and 12-18 are allowed.
